That the subject matter of the litigation in this action is the right to the use of the waters of the Provo River including its tributaries, springs, seepage and percolating waters, and waters issuing from the Ontario Drain Tunnel and ^{flowing} ~~flow~~ to the Provo River, water diverted from the Weber River to the Provo River; and embraces a portion of the Weber River water shed in Summit County, all of the water shed of the Provo River in Utah County and Summit County, and all of the water shed of the Provo River in Wasatch County, excepting a portion of Round Valley Creek, and all of Daniels Creek, Center Creek, Lake Creek and Bench Creek, and certain springs north of Heber City, viz: McDonald Spring, London Spring, and Sessions Spring.

That, Provo River is a tributary of the Utah Lake-Jordan River System. It has its rise in the summits of the Uintah Mountains, in Summit and Wasatch Counties, State of Utah. The head of this river is seventy miles distant from its mouth on Utah Lake. In this distance the river passes through a succession of valleys separated from each other by narrow canyons. These valleys contain large tracts of cultivated land. The soil is fertile, consisting principally of silt deposited by the river.

The river has its source in a number of small lakes, among which the more important are Washington Lake, Trial Lake, and Wall Lake. The river is augmented along its course by numerous tributaries, springs and seepage waters from the irrigated lands. From its source the river flows through narrow canyons in a southwesterly direction for twenty miles, then enters the Kamas Valley. In this distance there are ranches along at points where the canyon widens out. Through the Kamas Valley the river flows in a northwesterly direction for six miles and again enters a narrow canyon twelve miles long, from which it enters the northern extremity of the Provo Valley, through this valley the stream takes a southwesterly course through the center of the valley for twelve miles where it enters the Provo Canyon, which it follows for twelve miles emerging into the Utah Valley. From the mouth of Provo Canyon the river flows in a southwesterly direction and entering Utah Lake four miles west of Provo City.

The Provo River is a natural stream of water flowing through mountainous country and irrigated valleys. It is dependent upon precipitation. Its volume varies from year to year and from day to day. The diversion of large quantities of its waters for the irrigation of lands along its course and the return of a portion of such water in the form of seepage and springs, has produced a more uniform discharge volume than formerly. For a number of years lastpast there has been an average flow to the Utah Valley in the months of July, August and September greatly in excess of the quantity of flow to Utah Valley at the time of former adjudications. This flow for July, August and September is found to be the normal flow of said river in Utah Valley.

That all of the lands irrigated by plaintiff and defendants are barren and unproductive of agricultural crops without artificial irrigation, but when said lands are irrigated they produce abundantly agricultural crops and are of great value.

That portions of said river in its transit to the canals of the plaintiff and defendants is used for the generation of power of value for useful and beneficial purposes.

That as to quantities of water to which the parties plaintiff and defendants are entitled, as hereinafter found by the Court, the water used upon the lands of plaintiff and defendants for irrigation; the water used by the defendants for the generation of power; and the water used by the defendants for municipal and domestic purposes have been used for beneficial purposes, and are necessary and that the said uses have been necessary and beneficial from year to year ever since the same was first diverted and appropriated.

That the plaintiff each and every year since the year 1909, has been diverting portions of the water of said river to which it was entitled; at a point on said river seven miles north of Provo City, Utah County, Utah, by means of a dam constructed in said river known as the Heiselt dam and the canal leading therefrom known as the Provo Reservoir Canal, and through the canal of the Provo Bench Canal & Irrigation Company which heads near the mouth of Provo Canyon diverting waters from the said river and the tail race of the Olmstead Plant of the Utah Power & Light Company.

That the plaintiff's grantors and predecessors in interest and the defendants and their grantors and predecessors in interests, many years ago, when the waters of said river was unappropriated entered upon the said river and constructed dams therein and canals and waterways extending therefrom to their lands, cities, power plants, and places of use of the said waters, and then and there diverted from the said river and its tributaries the waters thereof, and conveyed the same through their canals and waterways to the places of use thereof and ever since have continued to so divert and use the said waters in the amounts, proportions and for the purposes hereinafter more particularly stated, and during all of the said time, the parties hereto, their grantors and predecessors in interests have continued to be and the parties hereto are now entitled to the use of the waters of said river at the places and to the extent and for the purposes hereinafter stated.

That the plaintiff, and the defendants Sego Irrigation Company, Wasatch Irrigation Company, Timpanogus Irrigation Company, and Washington Irrigation Company by application to and upon the approval of the State Engineer of the State of Utah, have constructed storage reservoirs near the head waters of said river, and have the right and do, each and every year, empound and store large quantities of water and during the low water period of each year release the same and comingle it with the waters of Provo River and recapture and use said waters to necessary and beneficial purposes.

That the defendants, the Utah Power & Light Company and the Midway Irrigation Company are the owners of waters issuing from the Ontario Drain Tunnel.

That some of the lands irrigated by the waters of said river are of such a nature, and are so situated, that large quantities of seepage water from said irrigation, seep and flow back into said river and into some of the canals diverting water from said river, after the same had been used for irrigation.

That the seepage water flowing into the said canals and into the said river is available for use, and that for the purpose of equitably dividing and distributing the waters of said river so that the parties hereto may receive for use the quantity to which they are entitled, all of the waters of said river and canals shall be measured in such a way as to include as far as practicable all the seepage water and inflow waters, so that the same may be distributed among the parties entitled thereto as a part and portion of the waters of said river.

-50-

That for the purpose of equitably dividing and distributing the waters of said river so that the parties may receive for use the quantity to which they are entitled where the flow in a canal is diminished by conditions that cannot be avoided, there shall be added to the amount sufficient water to make up such losses; in case of the flow of a canal is increased such increase ^{shall} ~~should~~ be counted as a part of its respective quantity; so as to give to the parties at the heads of their distributing laterals the quantities herein specified.

That for the purpose of equitably dividing and distributing said waters among the parties entitled thereto, under the decree of this cause it is necessary to provide for a COMMISSIONER appointed by this Court; to provide just compensation for said commissioner and reasonable allowance for his necessary expenses; to provide the necessary assistance to said commissioner and caretakers at the several reservoirs, and their compensation; and to provide a method of an assessment of the parties hereto, their successors and assigns, to pay the said expenses and compensations.

That it is necessary to authorize the COMMISSIONER, provided for herein, to distribute water to groups of individuals by combining their flow and giving to each of them an equivalent quantity of water with a proper sized irrigation stream for a period of time at reasonable intervals, commonly called the rotation system, and to direct said Commissioner to so distribute said water.

That it is necessary to provide; whenever, by mishap or accident to canal or ditch, or by conditions that cannot be controlled, a party to whom water has been awarded is deprived of his quantity of water and is in danger of sustaining material loss, a method to avoid such loss.

That in order to make effectual the rights found and awarded herein it is necessary for the Court to retain original jurisdiction of this cause and the subject matter thereof and all the parties thereto, their successors and assigns, and for the purpose of all necessary supplemental orders which may be required to make effectual the rights as herein found and awarded.

That, this Court in and for Wasatch County, State of Utah, on May 6th, 1899, entered a decree commonly called the "Fulton Decree", defining rights to the use of the waters of Provo River extending from the headwaters down to the Wasatch Dam, which is situate four miles north of the City of Heber.

This Court in and for Utah County, State of Utah, on January 29th, 1902, entered a decree commonly called the "Morse Decree", defining rights to the use of the waters of Provo River at and below the mouth of Provo Canyon.

This Court in and for Utah and Wasatch Counties, State of Utah, on January 26th, 1907, entered a decree commonly called the "Chidester Decree", defining rights to the use of waters of Provo River in Provo Canyon and Utah Valley.

No decree has been entered covering the rights to the use of the waters of Provo River between the head of Provo Canyon and the Wasatch Dam, a distance of ten miles and having many diversions for use from the stream.

This is the first litigation made on the basis of the physical unity of the stream from its headwaters to its mouth.

That for the purpose of facilitating the statement of facts found and decreeing the rights to the use of the waters of Provo River and its tributaries to the parties entitled thereto, the area traversed by the Provo River and its tributaries is subdivided into divisions, viz:

THE PROVO DIVISION, and

THE WASATCH DIVISION.

The Provo Division shall include all that area below and including what is known as and commonly called the Wright Ranch, which is near the head of Provo Canyon, in Wasatch County, State of Utah.

The Wasatch Division shall include all that area above what is known as and commonly called the Wright Ranch, and

That the Wasatch Division is subdivided into Districts, viz:

The First District,

The Third District shall include that area of said division from what is known as the Midway Upper Dam, down to what is known and commonly called the Wright Ranch.

WASATCH DIVISION.

First and Second Districts.

-101-

That the defendants in the First and Second Districts of the Wasatch Division, are entitled to the use of certain waters of the Provo River and its tributaries, springs, seepage and percolating waters, and waters from the Ontario Drain Tunnel, and which are necessary for the purposes of generation of power, domestic and municipal use, and for the irrigation of lands, and which rights are set out and agreed to between the plaintiff and the defendants, in stipulations filed or entered into in open Court, as follows:

"It is hereby stipulated by and between the parties hereto by their respective counsels whose names are subscribed to this stipulation that when the decree is entered in this cause the waters of the Provo River and its tributaries awarded to the parties to this stipulation shall be as hereinafter stated.

1. That as to priority of right the findings and decree of the Fourth District Court in and for Wasatch County, State of Utah, in the case of the Wasatch Irrigation Company et al vs. Edward M. Fulton, et al, entered May 6, 1899, be adopted as defining the rights of the parties to this action, named in said decree from first to tenth class rights, inclusive, said waters to be measured at the head of the laterals.

2.. That the Spring Creek Irrigation Company is entitled to a first class water right of one second foot for sixty acres of land irrigated for seven hundred and twenty acres; and the parties above the midway upper dam that were not included in the Fulton decree that appropriated waters from Provo River and its tributaries prior to the filing of said decree are entitled to one second foot for seventy acres of land as irrigated at the time of said appropriation, and are entitled to be included in the classes of said decree according to its date of appropriation as classed in said decree.

3. That John A. Johnson is entitled to one and one-half second feet of water for ninety acres of land as a first class water right and Phillip L. Ford is entitled as a first class water right to one second foot for the sixty acres of land irrigated by him; both of whom take said water from the river at the upper midway dam.

4. That the Midway Irrigation Company and the parties whose waters the said company controls and distributes are entitled to, (a) five and one-half second feet of water as described in the said Fulton decree as coming from the Ontario Drain Tunnel, which is not a part of the natural flow of Provo River, to be diverted and measured at the Midway upper dam; (b) A first class water right to the waters of Snake Creek, Pine Creek and all springs heretofore used by them, and two and a half second feet of the waters of Provo River to be diverted at the Midway upper adm, or such portions thereof which, when added to the five and a half second feet of Tunnel water heretofore specified, will not exceed a quantity greater than one second foot for sixty acres of land irrigated for three thousand five hundred and eighty-five acres, exclusive of the Island Ditch acres.

5. That the foregoing quantities constitute the first, second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth classes of water of the parties to this cause that divert and appropriate the waters of Provo River and its tributaries in Wasatch and Summit Counties.

6. That whenever the water flowing in said river and the canals of the parties heretofore stated exceeds in volume the aggregate of the quantities hereinbefore specified, then the parties to said findings and decree referred to in paragraph 1 hereof, are entitled to one second foot of water for each sixty acres of irrigated land.

The foregoing amount is denominated as the eleventh class.

7. That whenever the water flowing in said river and the canals of the parties heretofore stated exceeds in volume the aggregate of the quantities hereinbefore specified, the Sage Brush Irrigation Company is entitled of such excess to one second foot of water for sixty acres of land irrigated, for five hundred acres.

The foregoing amount is denominated as the twelfth class.

8. That whenever the water flowing in said river and the canals of the parties heretofore stated exceeds in volume the aggregate of the quantities hereinbefore specified, the Midway Irrigation Company and parties whose waters the said company controls and distributes, are entitled of such excess, in addition to the quantity specified in paragraph 4, to be diverted at said upper Midway Dam, to twelve and seventeen one-hundredths second feet, or such portion thereof which when added to the quantity specified in paragraph 4 as is necessary to and will not exceed a quantity greater than one second foot for sixty acres of land irrigated as specified in paragraph 4.

The foregoing is denominated as the thirteenth class.

9. That whenever the water flowing in said river and the canals of the parties heretofore stated exceeds in volume the aggregate of the quantities hereinbefore specified as belonging to the parties above named, the following named parties are entitled of such excess to the following quantities:

(a) The Stewart Ranch, a corporation, sixteen and sixty-seven hundredths second feet for the irrigation of one thousand acres of land.

(b) The Timpanogus Irrigation Company, thirty-three and thirty-three one hundredths second feet for the irrigation of two thousand acres of land.

(c) The Extension Irrigation Company, thirteen and $33/100$ second feet for the irrigation of eight hundred acres of land.

(d) The Sunrise Irrigation Company two and $4/10$ second feet of water for one hundred and forty-four acres of land.

The foregoing quantities are denominated as the fourteenth class.

10. That whenever the water flowing in said river and the canals of the parties heretofore stated exceeds in volume the aggregate of the quantities hereinbefore specified, the Midway Irrigation Company and the parties whose waters the said company controls and distributes, are entitled to twenty second feet of such excess, to be diverted at the Midway upper dam, in addition to the quantity specified in paragraph 4 and 8, or so much thereof as is necessary to supply the three thousand five hundred and eighty-five acres of land above the Island Ditch one second foot for sixty acres of said land.

The foregoing quantities are denominated as the fifteenth class.

11. That whenever the water flowing in said river and the canals of the parties heretofore stated exceeds in volume the aggregate of the quantities hereinbefore specified, the lands in Wasatch and Summit Counties not included in the foregoing that have been brought under an appropriation prior to September 15, 1908, are entitled of such excess to an amount of one second foot for sixty acres of such irrigated land.

The foregoing is denominated as the sixteenth class.

12. During the period of September 15 to April 15 of the following year the parties to the above entitled cause in Wasatch and Summit Counties and each of them are entitled only to the use of such portion of the amounts heretofore specified as their necessities may require, not to exceed one second foot for each seventy acres.

13. That to control and distribute the waters of Provo River and to insure the full measure of service from the waters of said river to all the parties to the above entitled cause the water Commissioner shall have reasonable discretion, but such authority shall not interfere with the rights specified in the first to sixteenth classes, inclusive, as hereinbefore stated.

14. That whenever the water flowing in said river and the canals of the parties heretofore stated exceeds in volume the aggregate of the quantities hereinbefore specified as belonging to the parties above named, the said parties and each of them are entitled in proportion to their respective quantities before specified, of such excess in any and all irrigation seasons from May 1 to August 10, (except as provided in section 33 herein,) to an amount which when added to the quantities hereinbefore specified will amount to one second foot for forty acres of such specified land; and when the volume of flow is insufficient to supply one second foot for forty acres of such specified land, but is more than sufficient to supply the sixteen classes aforesaid, such amount is to be distributed to the said parties and each of them in proportion to the quantities heretofore designated, each of them receiving the same amount of water per acre of said specified land; that is, the duty shall range uniformly from forty acres to sixty acres per second foot of water.

The foregoing is denominated as the seventeenth class.

15. For the purpose of designation the following districts are numbered:

From and including the Stewart Ranch down to the Hailstone ranch is designated as the First District.

From the Hailstone ranch down to and including the Diversion at the Upper Midway dam is designated the Second District.

16. When the amount hereinbefore denominated as the seventeenth class is insufficient to supply the two districts above named, the full amount of said seventeenth class, and prior to June 25 of any year, the first district shall have the right to its full amount of said class against the second district.

17. That whenever the waters flowing in said river and the canals of the parties heretofore stated exceed in volume the aggregate of the quantities heretofore specified and all the parties to this stipulation are being supplied with amounts of water not less than the quantities found to be necessary for their beneficial uses, the commissioner may extend the time limit specified in paragraph 16.

18. That whenever a party to this stipulation in Wasatch or Summit County, by mishap or accident to canal or ditch, or by conditions that cannot be controlled, is deprived of its quantity of water and is in danger of sustaining material loss, and for immediate use for a period of one rotation, needs a quantity of water greater than its proportion of the volume of flow, and such additional quantity can be given to such party without material injury to the other parties to this stipulation, then it shall be the duty of the water commissioner to supply said additional quantity from the waters in excess of the first to sixteenth classes, inclusive, before specified.

The water commissioner shall use due diligence and discretion to give the parties hereto the maintenance and development of the Provo River and shall use his discretionary authority to maintain and develop such river and to advance and maintain the crop production that is dependent upon said river.

19. That, except as specified in (a) and (b), paragraph 4, fixing the point of measurement where the flow of water in a canal is diminished by conditions that cannot be reasonably avoided, there shall be added to the amount sufficient water to make up such losses. In case the flow of a canal is increased, such increase shall be counted as a part of such respective quantities so as to give the parties at the head of the distributing laterals the quantities herein specified.

The quantity of loss or inflow provided for in this paragraph shall be determined by the water commissioner with the system in good working order and repair and in such condition as will reduce the losses to the lowest quantity practicable. Only the quantity of inflow that is available to the lands in the canal system as determined by the water commissioner shall be counted as a part of the quantity of inflow as herein specified. The allowable losses shall include only the actual, reasonable, unavoidable transmission loss, and no mechanical loss such as leaky gates, and shall extend only over a section of the canal that carries more than one irrigating stream continuously.

20. That the plaintiff and any of the defendants to the above entitled cause having the right to store in their own several reservoirs the waters of Provo River shall have the right to release the water so stored by them and comingle the same with the waters of Provo River and recapture the same at their several points of diversion, any loss in transmission to be determined by the decree to be entered herein.

21. That the plaintiff and the defendants in the above entitled cause, having reservoirs in Wasatch or Summit County, that appropriate and store water under applications approved by the State

Engineer of the State of Utah, have the right to store quantities of water in the high or flood water season that are in excess of the quantities herein awarded; said reservoirs are also entitled to store all the waters that can be stored in them between September 15 and April 15 of each and every year.

22. It is further stipulated and agreed that the parties hereto and the several corporations to the above entitled cause in Wasatch and Summit Counties that are above the upper Midway dam may at any time exchange one with another when such exchange does not conflict with or impair the rights of the other parties to this stipulation.

23. It is further stipulated and agreed that whenever the quantity of water flowing in said river and in the canals of the parties entitled thereto is insufficient to supply the quantity of water herein specified to a class, then the persons and parties in said class entitled thereto as hereinbefore stated, shall have the same distributed to them pro-rata, according to the quantities to which they are entitled as hereinbefore stated.

24. It is further stipulated and agreed that the classes and parties herein named are entitled to the right to use the waters of said river in the order above named and no class or party in said class shall be entitled to the use of any such waters so long as the water flowing in said river and in said canal is insufficient to supply the preceding classes and parties herein with the quantity of water to which they are entitled as hereinbefore provided.

25. It is further stipulated and agreed that for the purpose of equitably dividing and distributing the waters of said river, so that the parties interested therein as herein provided may receive the quantity to which they are entitled, none of the parties hereto (diverting and using waters in Wasatch and Summit Counties) shall have the right to extend the use of the waters awarded to them upon other lands than those now irrigated so as to cause the seepage or drainage therefrom to be diverted away from the channel of said river or from the lands heretofore irrigated thereby.

26. That for the purpose of equitably dividing and distributing the waters of said river so that the parties hereto may receive for use the quantity to which they are entitled, all of the waters of said river and canals shall be measured in such a way so as to include, as far as practicable, all the seepage water and inflow waters, so that the same may be distributed among the parties entitled thereto as a part and portion of the waters of said river.

27. It is further stipulated and agreed that all persons and corporations, parties to this stipulation, respectively construct or cause to be constructed at their own expense and under the direction and supervision of the water commissioner appointed by the court proper appliances for the diversion and accurate measurement of the waters awarded to them, respectively: and thereafter shall maintain and keep in place all dams, head-gates, flumes, canals and other means by which water is diverted, conveyed or used, in a good state of repair, together with appliances for the diversion and measurement of said water; to the end that no unnecessary loss from seepage or leakage shall occur, and that the water shall be economically applied to the use for which it is awarded.

28. It is further stipulated and agreed that all the rights fixed, declared and decreed shall be founded upon appropriation of water necessary for some beneficial use and that all rights fixed, declared and decreed shall be subject in their exercise to the conditions that they are required and necessary for some beneficial use, and that all rights are subject to the limitations and conditions that all of such water is used for some beneficial purpose and is used economically, without waste, with due care, and is reasonably and fairly necessary for such use.

29. It is further stipulated and agreed that each of the parties to this stipulation and his successors and assigns, and they and each of their agents, servants and employees and all persons acting for them or in their interest, shall be forever enjoined and restrained from in any manner or at all interfering one with the other in the full, free and unrestricted use of the quantity of the waters of said river awarded to them; and from in any manner or at all interfering with the distribution of said water by the commissioner appointed by the court.

30. It is further stipulated and agreed that the court shall retain original jurisdiction of this cause and the subject matter thereof, and of the parties thereto, their successors and assigns for the purpose of all necessary supplementary orders and decrees which may be required to make effectual the rights the court may award by its decree therein.

31. It is further stipulated and agreed that any party to this stipulation who is dissatisfied with any of the regulations, requirements, discretionary acts of control of the distribution, or orders of the commissioner, may appeal to the court for review and relief.

32. It is stipulated that Isaac R. Baum shall have the right to change the point of diversion of the ten acres water right which was decreed in said Fulton decree to W. H. Walker from the farm formerly owned by said W. H. Walker to the farm now owned by said Isaac R. Baum, with a loss of three-tenths thereof.

33. It is understood and agreed by all the parties to this action that the rights of the parties diverting or storing the waters of Provo River at and above the Midway upper dam shall be as provided in this stipulation, or as proven at the trial. It is not intended by this stipulation to stipulate and agree as to the respective rights which the parties diverting water below the Midway upper dam may have as between themselves to the waters of Provo River diverted below the Midway upper dam.

Provided however, that if between April 15th and May 15th of any year it becomes necessary in order to supply the parties to this action using water below the Midway upper dam with the quantities of water to which they are respectively entitled under the decree in this case and the plaintiff with one second foot of water for each seventy acres of land which it is entitled to irrigate under its appropriations of water, then said parties using water above said Midway upper dam shall be limited to a duty of one second foot of water for each sixty acres of land, but such limitation shall not extend beyond May 15th in each year.

34. It is further stipulated and provided that the Sage Brush Irrigation Company, Spring Creek Ditch Irrigation Company and the Charleston Irrigation Company (through its upper canal) shall not be entitled to more than one second foot of water for sixty acres from July 5th to September 15th of each year.

35. It is further stipulated and agreed that the areas of land not heretofore specified in this stipulation entitled to water are as follows, to-wit:

Wasatch Irrigation Company, 2500 acres in the first class.

North Field Irrigation Company, 2500 acres in first class.

Charleston Irrigation Company, through its upper canal..... 720 acres in first class, and 100 acres in sixteenth class.

Timpanogus Irrigation Company, 1000 acres in sixteenth class.
Provided, that said 1000 acres shall not be entitled to water except as the said land is brought under cultivation.

South Kamas Irrigation Company, 1050 acres in first class;
650 acres in second class.

Washington Irrigation Company, 1262 acres in fifth class.

Sunrise Irrigation Company, 240 acres in first class, and 144 acres in eleventh class.

That all areas of land not herein specifically stated, which may not be settled by stipulation hereafter, shall be determined in the trial of this cause at Provo".

GENERAL PROVISIONS CONCERNING
RIGHTS AND ADMINISTRATION.

That the lands irrigated by the waters of said river are of such a nature, and are so situated, that large quantities of seepage water from said irrigation, seep and flow back into said river and into some of the canals diverting water from said river, after the same has been used for irrigation, and

That for the purpose of maintaining the volume of flow of said river available for use for the parties, and to maintain to the parties hereto the respective rights herein found and awarded, none of the parties shall change the place of use of said water so as to cause the seepage or drainage therefrom to be diverted away from the channel of said river, or canals, or from the lands heretofore irrigated thereby.

That, the stored waters, the Ontario Drain Tunnel waters, and the waters diverted from the Weber River watershed, turned into and comingled with the waters of Provo River, shall bear each its respective loss by evaporation and seepage, and shall bear each its respective proportion of the cost of distribution and administration of the orders of the Court and the Decree herein, and;

The final determination and fixing of the quantity of water that should be deducted for loss in transmission of the stored waters, the Ontario Drain Tunnel waters, and the waters diverted from the Weber River watershed, turned into and comingled with the waters of the Provo River, ought to be postponed until such time as observations and measurements will enable the Court to fix the same with reasonable certainty. The Court will therefore retain jurisdiction of this case for that purpose, and at some future time, upon application of any party interested therein, will hear such evidence as may be available, and determine the amount of loss in transmission of such water. Pending such hearing and determination there may be deducted from the stored waters, four per cent of their volume, for loss by evaporation and seepage.

And that, it shall be the duty of the Commissioner, herein provided for, to determine, whenever practicable, the quantity of loss by evaporation and seepage, of the waters in this paragraph referred to.

That, excepting stored waters, Ontario Drain Tunnel waters, waters diverted from the Weber River watershed, the waters used for the generation of power in the Wasatch Division and denominated Wasatch Division Power Rights, the waters used for the generation of power in the Provo Division by the Utah Power & Light Company, the waters of the Midway Waterworks Company, and the waters for domestic and municipal uses of Provo City as set out in subdivision (e) paragraph 58; whenever the quantity of water is insufficient to supply a class, then the persons and parties entitled thereto shall have the same distributed to them pro rata according to the quantities to which they are entitled in said class.

That except as to stored waters, the Ontario Drain Tunnel waters, and the waters diverted from the Weber River watershed, the parties herein named are entitled to the right to use the waters of said Provo River in the Classes in which they are named in each of said divisions, and no class or party in said class shall be entitled to the use of any such water so long as the water flowing in said river and in the canals is insufficient to supply the preceding classes with the quantities of water to which they are entitled as hereinbefore stated.

That the plaintiff and the defendants having the right to store water in their several reservoirs, as hereinbefore stated, have the right to release said waters in the quantities and at such times as they may elect, and to comingle the same with the waters of Provo River, and then be taken out less the evaporation and seepage losses.

(a) That, the First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, Eleventh, Twelfth, Thirteenth, Fourteenth, Fifteenth and Sixteenth Classes in the First and Second Districts of the Wasatch Division shall be entitled to receive their whole supply in said classes as hereinbefore stated, before other rights.

(c) When the quantity of water in said river and the canals of the parties hereto, in the First and Second Districts of the Wasatch Division is insufficient to supply the two districts above named with the full amount of the waters denominated as the Seventeenth Class and prior to June 25th of any year, the said First District shall have the right to its full amount of said Seventeenth Class, before the said Second District.

(d) That, the First Class in the Third District of the Wasatch Division shall be entitled to receive their whole supply in said class, as hereinbefore stated, before the rights in the Provo Division.

(e) That, the defendants hereto, in the Provo Division, shall be entitled to receive their whole supply as hereinbefore stated, and the plaintiff shall be entitled to receive one second foot per seventy acres of land, before the Seventeenth Class of the Third District of the Wasatch Division.

That the quantity of loss or inflow provided in paragraph 50, shall be determined by the water Commissioner with the system in good working order and repair, and in such condition as will reduce the losses to the lowest quantity practicable. Only the quantity of inflow that is available to the lands in the canal system as determined by the water Commissioner shall be counted as a part of the quantity of inflow as herein provided. The allowable losses shall include only the actual, reasonable, unavoidable transmission losses, and shall extend over the section of the canal that carries more than one irrigation stream continuously.

That for the purpose of equitably dividing and distributing the waters of said river so that the parties may receive for use the quantities of water hereinbefore specified and to which they are entitled, the quantity and volume of the canals and ditches that carry one irrigating stream, and as such is a distributing lateral, shall be determined and ascertained by weirs or other proper measuring devices located above and as near as practicable the place where the first user of water diverts from said canal or ditch.

And for the purpose of equitably dividing and distributing the waters of said river so that the parties may receive for use the quantities of water hereinbefore specified and to which they are entitled at the heads of the distributing laterals, the quantity and volume of the canals shall be determined and ascertained by weirs or other proper measuring devices located above the place where the first user of water diverts from said canal and weirs or other proper measuring devices located in and near the heads of the distributing laterals. The quantity of loss or gain between the main station on the canal and the heads of the distributing laterals shall be determined by the Commissioner with the system in good working order and repair and in such condition as will reduce the losses to the lowest quantity practicable.

Where the flow in a canal is diminished by conditions that cannot be reasonably avoided, between the main station on the canal and the heads of the distributing laterals, the quantity at the main station on the canal shall be such that the quantity to which the parties are entitled as hereinbefore specified will be delivered to them at the heads of the distributing laterals.

In case the flow of a canal is increased, such increase shall be counted as a part of its respective quantity, and the quantity at the main station on the canal shall be such that the quantity to which the parties are entitled as hereinbefore specified will be delivered to them at the heads of the distributing laterals.

That all persons and corporations, parties to this action, shall respectively construct or cause to be constructed at their own expense and under the direction and supervision of the water Commissioner appointed by the Court, proper appliances for the diversion and accurate measurement of the waters awarded to them respectively; and thereafter shall maintain and keep in place all dams, head-gates, flumes, canals and other means by which water is diverted, conveyed or used, in a good state of repair, together with appliances for the diversion and measurement of said waters; to the end that no unnecessary loss from seepage or leakage shall occur, and that the water shall be economically applied to the use for which it is awarded.

That all the rights awarded herein, and fixed, declared and decreed by these findings and the decree to be entered herein are founded upon appropriation of water necessary for some beneficial use, and all such rights are subject in their exercise to the conditions that they are required and necessary for beneficial uses and all such rights are expressly subject to the limitations and conditions that all of such water is used for some beneficial purpose and is used economically, without waste, and with due care, and is reasonably and fairly necessary for such use.

That all the rights awarded herein, fixed, and declared and decreed by these findings and the decree to be entered herein, founded upon appropriation of water by application to the State Engineer of the State of Utah, are subject in their exercise and conditioned upon compliance with the terms of the application upon which each respective appropriation is based and upon compliance with the provisions of the laws of the State of Utah relating thereto, and, further, each is subject to the provisions of the laws of the State of Utah governing the issuance of certificates of completion of appropriation by said State Engineer, and are expressly subject to the limitations and conditions as contained in the application and as the same may be further defined in the certificate of completion of appropriation.

That all the rights awarded herein, and fixed, declared and decreed by these findings and the decree to be entered herein, are awarded for the beneficial uses specified, and none of the parties hereto, or their successors in interest, whether heirs, executors, administrators, successors or assigns, shall have the right to divert any of the waters of said Provo River, or any of its tributaries, except for beneficial use, and whenever such use has ceased such party or parties shall cease to divert, and shall have no right to divert, the said waters, or any part thereof, and each and all of the parties hereto, their servants, attorneys, employees and successors in interest, as aforesaid, shall be enjoined and restrained from any and all interference with or diversion or use of the said waters, except in the manner, and to the extent, and for the purposes, provided herein, whenever such interference or use would in any manner or at all interfere with the diversion or use of the water awarded herein to any of the other parties to this action.

That all the rights awarded herein, fixed, declared and decreed by these findings and the decree to be entered herein, for domestic and municipal uses and for the generation of power, are continuous throughout the year without limitation to time or season.

That all the rights awarded herein, fixed, declared and decreed by these findings and the decree to be entered herein, for irrigation purposes, include the right to divert and use water for irrigation, culinary, domestic, and agricultural purposes connected therewith. And such rights of diversion and use for culinary, and domestic purposes are continuous throughout the year, and are limited to the quantity reasonably necessary for said uses. And such rights of diversion and use for irrigation purposes is confined to the irrigation season of each year, and none of said parties are entitled to divert or use any of said waters, (except for culinary and domestic purposes as hereinbefore provided), during the non-irrigating season -- after the necessity for such use for irrigation purposes has ceased in the Autumn of each year and until it is necessary to use the same for irrigation purposes in the Spring of the year following. The Commissioner, herein provided for, shall have power to enforce the provisions of this paragraph, particularly to restricting the quantity of diversion of water during the non-irrigating season in each year whenever such diversion will in any way or at all interfere with the use of said waters by the parties herein awarded water for the generation of power. And that any party to this action, his heirs, executors, administrators, successors and assigns, who is dissatisfied with the regulations or rules imposed by the said Commissioner, may apply to the Court, by written application and said application may be heard upon affidavits or oral testimony as the parties may elect, for a review thereof and an order of direction in the premises.

That each and all of the parties to this action, and their successors in interest, whether heirs, executors, administrators, successors or assigns, and they, and each of their agents, servants and employees, and all persons acting for them, or in their interest, shall be forever enjoined and restrained from in any manner, or at all, interfering one with the other in the full free and unrestricted use of the quantity of the waters of said river awarded to them, and from in any manner, or at all, interfering with the distribution of such waters by the Commissioner, herein provided for. And, also, shall be, forever, enjoined and restrained from in any manner, or at all, diverting more water than can be reasonably and beneficially used for the purposes for which waters are herein awarded and decreed, and waste of water shall be specifically, prohibited and forbidden.

-165-

That for the purpose of the proper distribution of the waters awarded herein, and for the accurate and equitable diversion and distribution of the same, among the parties entitled thereto, and for the purpose of carrying into effect the decree to be entered herein in all its details, this Court will hereafter appoint a Commissioner with full power and authority to measure, control, regulate and distribute the said waters among the parties to this action as herein awarded; and from time to time to construct or cause to be constructed such dams, weirs and appliances as are necessary to the equitable and economical distribution thereof.

That said Commissioner shall be appointed by this Court on the First Day of the April Term of the District Court, at Provo City, Utah County, Utah. He shall hold his office for the term of one year and until his successor shall have been appointed and qualified.

Said Commissioner shall receive such compensation as shall be fixed by the Court, at the time of his appointment, payable in quarterly installments by the Clerk of this Court from moneys deposited by the parties for that purpose, as hereinafter provided.

That assistants to the Commissioner shall be employed by the Commissioner upon the approval of the Court, and shall receive compensation, for the time employed, in the same manner as provided for the Commissioner; and caretakers at the reservoirs shall be employed and shall be under the direction of the Commissioner and shall make reports from time to time to the Commissioner as directed by him. Such caretakers shall be paid in the same manner as provided for the payment of compensation of the other assistants to the Commissioner, from money deposited by the owners of the reservoirs for that purpose.

The basis of the assessment to the respective parties for the expenses of administration shall be a fixed ratio annually and the respective amounts due from each party are payable quarterly, and within ten days after receipt of notice of the amount thereof.

Upon failure to pay the same within ten days after notice thereof, said Commissioner is authorized to with-hold further distribution of water to the users so in default until the same shall be paid.

That, until the further order of the Court, the proportion of the total assessment to be borne by each of the respective parties using water for irrigation is to be fixed by the product of the area of land irrigated as set out herein, multiplied by the length of the season of use, divided by the duty of water on the 15th day of July. The duty of water shall be determined by using the area of land and the volume of water as found herein. The length of the season of use to serve the purpose of the foregoing computation is fixed as follows: First Class Rights in the Wasatch Division, 130 days; Second to Seventeenth Class Rights, inclusive, 90 days; Class A Rights in the Provo Division 165 days; Class B, C, D, E, F, G, H, I, and J in the Provo Division and Classes Eighteen, Nineteen and Twenty, in the Wasatch Division 60 days.

The assessment to the power users shall be as follows:

Utah Power & Light Company - - - - -	$ 25.00 per month.
Heber City, Midway Town Corporation, and Town of Charleston, doing business under the firm name of Heber Light & Power Plant - - -	$ 5.00 per month.
L. L. Donnon, power right - - - - -	0.75 " "
Joseph R. Murdock, power right - - - - -	1.50 " "
Neils J. Johnson, power right - - - - -	0.55 " "
Joseph Hatch, Abram C. Hatch, Minnesota A. Dodds, Jane H. Turner, and Lacy H. Farnsworth, power right,	0.75 " "

The assessment of Provo City for its power rights along the Factory Race, together with the Provo Pressed Brick Company for its Brick Plant Power Right, is to be fixed by the quantity of Class A water herein found to this use multiplied by 165; this product to be used in computing the assessment the same as the figures derived for the computation of the irrigation assessments, $\frac{1}{5}$ of said assessment to be paid by the Provo Pressed Brick Company and $\frac{4}{5}$ by Provo City.

The assessment of Provo City for its municipal supply is to be fixed by the quantity of water actually flowing in its system at its Spring Dell weir in Provo Canyon on the 15th day of July, multiplied by 165. This product is to be used the same as provided for the rights above. Since the flow of water on the date specified varies one year with another, the assessment for each year is to be fixed by the measurement made on the 15th day of July of that year.

Said Commissioner shall have general supervision and control of said waters, that no unnecessary loss by seepage or leakage shall occur and that the said waters shall be economically applied to the use for which it is awarded, and of their measurement, apportionment, and distribution, and of all assistants to said Commissioner and caretakers at the several reservoirs. He shall have power to make and publish such rules and regulations as he may deem necessary from time to time to secure the equitable and fair apportionment of said waters according to the respective rights as found, awarded and decreed in this cause.

- (c) To determine and fix payments and assessments to be borne by each of the respective parties, their successors and assigns.
- (d) And, to appoint Commissioners and assistants and fix their compensation, as hereinbefore provided.

In all other respects the decree shall be final:

That this Court, however, at all times, shall, retain jurisdiction of this case and the subject matter thereof and all the parties thereto, their successors and assigns, for the purpose of from time to time making such further orders, rules and regulations as are necessary for the regulation, control and distribution of said waters according to the terms of said decree, and for the purpose of compelling by further decree or otherwise the construction of such improvements, dams, weirs, and appliances as may from time to time be found necessary or expedient for the proper carrying out of the terms of said decree and for the equitable and economical distribution of said waters, and for the further purpose of compelling the payment of such sums by either or any or all of the parties hereto for the costs and expenses of improvements and the distribution of said waters, and the compensation of said Commissioner and assistants, as may by the Court seem just and equitable, and for the further purpose of carrying the terms and provisions of said decree into full force and effect, and to punish the parties hereto, their officers, agents and employees, and their grantees and successors in interest, for any violations of the provisions thereof.
